

Motivation - IMS Delegate Elections

Adam Volf

To my fellow IMS members,

Having been elected as one of your IMS delegates in 2024, it has been my objective to grow and represent the International Members' community as best I can.

I intend to continue this objective further in 2025. For this reason, I hope to secure your vote to be IMS Delegate once more.

About Me

I graduated in European Studies from Trinity College Dublin and the College of Europe in Natolin. My professional experience includes a Schuman traineeship in Brussels, three years at the College of Europe, and my current work as a freelance writer (geopolitics/economics).

I reside in Prague and Brussels, and my hobbies include gaelic football, computer games, gymnastics, piano, supporting my local football team (Sparta Praha), and routinely binge-watching Netflix series. Narcos is my favourite.

My Role at Lymec

I joined Lymec in Brussels in 2021. I was attracted by its policies and vision for the EU, but also - perhaps above all - by the existence of its International Members' Section. I don't belong to a national MO, and I see the IMS as a unique blueprint for European politics in the future. I wish to do my part to help it grow.

I served as delegate this past year, representing the IMS' interests at the 2024 Congresses in Brussels and Warsaw. I also hosted several events for the IMS online (Have I Got News for EU, Mock the Elections), and am currently - alongside my co-delegate Silvia and the IMS Steering Committee - organising an in-person event in Brussels in December.

I have also been the Editor-in-Chief of Libertas since February 2023.

The IMS Voice Shall Continue to be Heard!

Being an International Member since joining Lymec, my focus is solely on the IMS, and the IMS alone. We are the future of European politics.

If successfully elected, I will continue to foster an active community in the IMS. I will - alongside my fellow delegates - seek to ensure as many events for international members to take part in as possible.

And I will also ensure that the IMS voice continues to be heard clearly at the coming Lymec Congresses in 2025.
